EDUCATION

Emory Law School

University of South Carolina

Blake Walker began his academic journey at the University of South Carolina, earning his bachelor's degree in philosophy. Studying philosophy sharpened his critical thinking, ethical reasoning, and analytical problem-solving skills, laying an ideal foundation for a career in the law. He went on to attend Emory University School of Law, where he refined his legal research, writing, and editorial abilities while serving as an executive managing editor for the Emory Bankruptcy Developments Journal.

Today, Blake brings that strong analytical background and meticulous attention to detail to his role as a pre-suit attorney in the Morgan & Morgan Atlanta office. Warm, approachable, and genuinely attentive, he takes the time to listen closely to his clients' stories and build strong, well documented claims from the very beginning. Blake takes immense pride in guiding everyday individuals through the early stages of the legal process with clarity and care, working diligently to hold responsible parties accountable and secure the compensation his clients deserve.
