Born and raised in Miami, Jorge Garcia has deep roots in the community he nor proudly serves. Before dedicating his career to representing the injured, he spent years defending insurance companies and major corporations in complex personal injury and wrongful death case. That experience gave him invaluable insight into how the defense operates, which he know uses to outthink, outmaneuver, and outperform them on behalf of his clients.

Since joining Morgan & Morgan, Jorge has helped recover more than $100 million in settlements and verdict for injury victims and their families. A trial lawyer at heart, he has taken numerous cases to verdict, earning a reputation for precision, preparation, and fearless advocacy in the court rooms.

Jorge approaches every case with strategic vision and personal dedication. He understands that behind every file is a person whose life has been turned upside down and works tireless to help them rebuild with dignity and strength.

After years defending corporations, Jorge is now exactly where he belongs – fighting for the people of Miami and beyond, using insider knowledge, courtroom skill, and unrelenting determination to deliver justice for those who need it most.
