EDUCATION

University of Florida, B.S., 1988

University of South Carolina, J.D., 1992

Henry Mowry was born and raised in Jacksonville Florida and attended The Bolles School. He went on to the University of Florida for undergraduate studies where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He studied at the School of Business Administration and obtained a Bachelors of Science with a major in Finance. His father and two sisters are also University of Florida alumni, and they are all supporters of the University of Florida football program. He attended the University of South Carolina School of Law and has been licensed to practice in the State of Florida since 1993.

Mr. Mowry has been with Morgan & Morgan's Jacksonville office since 2004 and has always headed up the Florida Worker's Compensation Act practice for this North Florida office. He was made a Partner of the Jacksonville office of Morgan & Morgan PLLC in 2012. He continues his focus on representing injured workers and is a member of the Jacksonville-based Robert Williams Inns of Court.

Mr. Mowry is raising his family in Jacksonville and resides in the Jacksonville Beach area. He has two sons currently in the Fletcher School system. Henry is a season ticket holder for the Jacksonville Jaguars and has been since 2002. He takes pride in being a local attorney, originally from the area, and giving back to his clients and community.
