EDUCATION

University of South Florida

Barry University School of Law, cum laude

Stephen C. Lynch was born in Long Island, New York, and moved down to central Florida with his family when he was a young child. After completing high school, he was the first member of his immediate family to go to college and he graduated from the University of South Florida in Tampa with two Bachelor's Degrees. After graduating from USF, he enrolled in law school and graduated with his Juris Doctorate, cum laude, with honors, from Barry University School of Law in Orlando, Florida.

Following graduation from law school, Stephen took and passed the Florida Bar Examination, was admitted to the Florida Bar, and began practicing law in Florida. He has always represented individuals injured through no fault of their own.

Stephen advocates for those injured in car crashes, slips and falls, and other incidents that cause personal injury because of the negligence of others and fights for the people against powerful entities and insurance companies. He understands the importance of being there for his clients and is prepared to fight for you.
