Michael A. Pipitone is an attorney for Morgan & Morgan's Fort Lauderdale office. Michael received his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of Florida and spent the summer of 2010 interning on Capitol Hill for a United States House Representative.

Michael went on to earn his Juris Doctor from Stetson University College of Law. While attending law school, Michael was active in public service completing school clinics for the Pinellas County State Attorney's Office, County Attorney's Office and was a district office intern for a local United States House Representative. Following law school, Mr. Pipitone continued in public service as a felony prosecutor at the Miami-Dade State Attorney's Office gaining valuable litigation and trial experience. He then worked for a defense firm where his practice focused on defending large corporations and insurance companies against property claims in litigation.

After practicing insurance defense and learning how adjusters and insurance defense attorneys strategize pre-suit cases, litigation cases, and trials, Michael now exclusively represents individuals and families who have been injured due to the negligence of others.
