Abdul "Hameed" Khan-Tareen grew up in Montgomery County Maryland, just outside of Washington D.C. He received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Maryland Baltimore County, where he graduated Cum Laude, and graduated with his Juris Doctorate from George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School.

While in law school, Hameed was a member of George Mason's Trial Advocacy team where he competed against other law students from around the country in mock trials. This experience left Hameed with an abiding love of civil litigation that he wanted to bring into his law career. After graduating law school Hameed spent time as a contractor law clerk working for the Department of Justice where he assisted in a large multi-state toxic tort case. This taught him the importance of pursuing a law career seeking justice and compensation for those aggrieved by the powerful.

In 2020 he became an Associate Attorney at Greenberg & Bederman LLC, one of the oldest personal injury law firms in the DMV area, where he managed a high volume caseload of personal injury cases in the pre-litigation phase. Hameed helped hundreds of clients reach satisfactory settlements for severe injuries against large insurance companies. Today he brings that passion for justice and wealth of personal injury experience to Morgan & Morgan.

Outside of his life as an attorney Hameed enjoys watching F1 racing, frequenting local car shows, and brushing up on any historical documentary series he can find online.
