EDUCATION

University of Delaware

Nashville School of Law

Chris Coyne is a personal injury attorney at Morgan & Morgan focusing on car wreck litigation. Born and raised near Philadelphia, PA, Chris received his Bachelor of Science in Agriculture from the University of Delaware in 2005. After college, he spent 4 years designing rooftop gardens stories above the ground in New York City. While he enjoyed the creative process, Chris constantly felt called to a different profession that would serve people from all walks of life. In 2009, he began working in a personal injury firm gaining real world experience while earning his law degree from Nashville School of Law.

In 2013, Chris graduated from law school and received the prestigious Moot Court Award, and soon began representing injured people in need of help. He felt he found his purpose of helping and protecting the everyday person. Chris has devoted his entire career to helping people fight insurance companies.

Chris and his wife, Cory, a native Nashvillian, have lived in East Nashville since 2010. They have two children, Charlie and Tess. In his free time, Chris likes helping coach his son's basketball team and taking the kids fishing.
