EDUCATION

Thomas Jefferson School of Law, J.D.

Emory University, B.A., Political Science

Tiffiny Robinson was born overseas while her mother served in our faithful military before her family ultimately settled in Georgia to reside. Mrs. Robinson received her Bachelor's degree in Political Science from Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. After college, she relocated to San Diego, California on a full scholarship, attending Thomas Jefferson School of Law. While in California, Mrs. Robinson was a member of the Mock Trial team where her love for advocacy and the Courtroom was nurtured.

As a Pastor's daughter, Mrs. Robinson was raised to respect and honor herself and her community and to always fight for what is right. She has received numerous accolades and awards highlighting her commitment to serving her community and Mrs. Robinson has dedicated her practice to civil justice, meticulously providing intentional excellence beyond measure to her clients.

Mrs. Robinson's community and civic engagements has allowed her to have "the people's touch" in how she relates and communicates with her clients and how she paints a picture of totality in telling each of their stories in any Courtroom. Being raised in a military and Christian faith-based family has afforded her keen attention to detail. She leaves no stone unturned in her approach to maximizing every recovery for her clients.

Ms. Robinson handles all types of personal injury cases, including but surely not limited to commercial truck wrecks, dog bite cases, negligent and inadequate security cases, pedestrian hits/incidents, bicycle and motorcycle wrecks as well as catastrophic injury and wrongful death cases.

When away from the Courtroom, Mrs. Robinson can be found serving non-profits as a Board Member in a variety of committee or executive member positions or regularly volunteering in her community or at her father's church when she is not traveling to the world's most beautiful beaches with her husband and children. Also an ex-athlete, Mrs. Robinson is a renown fantasy football guru and enjoys all sports. Go Cowboys!
