Former Nursing Home Defense Attorney -- 11 years

Albert J. Ferrera's journey into the legal realm is a testament to his deep-rooted ties to Tampa, Florida, and his unwavering commitment to justice. A native of Tampa, Mr. Ferrera embarked on his academic journey at the University of South Florida, where he majored in American History, delving into the complexities of the nation's past while nurturing his passion for advocacy and understanding societal dynamics. This academic pursuit laid the groundwork for his future legal endeavors. Subsequently, Mr. Ferrera pursued higher education at Florida State University College of Law, earning his Juris Doctor degree in 1997 and gaining admission to the Florida Bar on Sept. 24 of the same year.

Mr. Ferrera's professional trajectory is marked by a distinguished 11-year tenure in nursing home defense, where he honed his legal skills and gained invaluable experience in navigating complex legal issues surrounding elder care and nursing home regulations. This background equipped him with a comprehensive understanding of the nuances involved in defending nursing homes, setting the stage for his transition to championing the rights of vulnerable individuals. Joining Morgan & Morgan allowed Mr. Ferrera to shift his focus to nursing home abuse, a crucial area where his expertise and dedication are instrumental in ensuring justice for those who have been mistreated or neglected. His bilingual proficiency further enhances his ability to assist Spanish-speaking residents in Tampa, providing them with essential legal support when they or their loved ones are subjected to abuse or exploitation in large nursing home facilities.
