Kelsey Saalmann began her career with Morgan & Morgan as a data entry clerk while studying at Florida State University. From day one, she knew fighting for the rights of the injured was her calling. After working her way through roles as a legal assistant and case manager, Kelsey set her sights on returning to the firm as an attorney.

She earned her law degree from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, where she served on the Florida Trial Team, worked as a Trial Practice teaching assistant, and was honored with an Outstanding Graduate award.

Now in her fourth Morgan & Morgan office, Kelsey proudly fights for clients across South Carolina. She has litigated across Northern Florida and the entire state of South Carolina, earning a reputation for fierce advocacy and compassionate representation.

When she's not in the courtroom, you'll find Kelsey with her husband, Blake, and their dog, Ollie—at the beach, watching college football, or exploring the outdoors.

Kelsey is proud to serve South Carolina and honored to stand up for those who need it most.
