Matt Magid is a trial attorney with Morgan & Morgan in the firm's Philadelphia office. He is dedicated to delivering justice to his injured clients: the victims of trucking and commercial vehicle crashes as well as personal automobile incidents. Prior to joining Morgan & Morgan, Matt practiced at a regional defense firm where he handled medical malpractice and general liability matters.

Matt earned his J.D. from the Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law in 2022 where he graduated magna cum laude. While at Drexel, Matt competed on Kline Law's nationally renowned mock trial team, served as an editor on the Drexel Law Review, and worked as a teaching assistant. Matt won the CALI Excellence for the Future Award for best student performance in his Criminal Procedure: Investigations course.

While in law school, Matt interned with a judge in the Philadelphia County Court of Common Pleas and gained valuable experience working as a law clerk at two prominent Philadelphia-area plaintiff's catastrophic personal injury firms. Prior to law school, Matt earned his undergraduate degree in biology at Penn State and worked as a legal assistant at a Bucks County general practice law firm.
