Corey Seldin is a labor and employment attorney located at Morgan & Morgan's Plantation, Florida office. He represents employees who have suffered civil rights violations in their employment, handling claims for unpaid minimum and overtime wages, discrimination, retaliation, and other labor and employment matters. Prior to joining Morgan & Morgan, he worked for a volume Labor and Employment firm in Miami, FL, where he gained experience litigating employment matters in both state and federal courts.

Corey is a South Florida native, born and raised in Broward and Palm Beach Counties. He received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Florida and his J.D. from Florida International University College of Law where he was on the Deans' List and volunteered in the school's pro bono Guardianship Clinic.
