EDUCATION

GW Law School -- JD -- 2019

Boston University -- BA in
Chemistry -- 2016

Chris graduated from GW Law School in 2019. He dedicated a year to clerk for the Honorable Heidi M. Pasichow on the District of Columbia Superior Court, where he gained invaluable insights into the intricacies of the legal system and enhanced his skills in legal research, writing, and analysis. This clerkship experience provided Chris with a strong foundation in understanding court procedures and the nuances of legal proceedings, setting the stage for his transition into practicing Personal Injury law.

Since 2020, Chris has immersed himself in the realm of Personal Injury law, demonstrating his courtroom prowess by trying numerous cases across the DMV (District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia) region. His practice areas encompass a broad range, including Personal Injury claims and lawsuits, Premises Liability and Slip & Fall cases, Commercial Semi Truck Accidents, Motorcycle Accident Injuries, and Auto Accidents. With a solid educational background, including a BA in Chemistry from Boston University, Chris brings a unique blend of analytical thinking and legal acumen to his practice. This enables him to approach cases from a comprehensive perspective, ensuring optimal outcomes for his clients.

As an advocate for individuals seeking justice and compensation for their injuries, Chris is deeply committed to providing diligent representation and fighting for the rights of those affected by accidents and negligence. He also represents, pro bono, tenants who have been subject to inhumane housing conditions or threatened with eviction. His presence in the Washington, DC area underscores his dedication to serving the local community and ensuring access to legal assistance for those in need.
