EDUCATION

Florida State University College of Law, J.D., 2012

Florida State University, B.A., 2008

Keven Leveille is a native of Miami, Florida who received his Juris Doctorate Degree from the Florida State University College of Law. While attending law school, Keven served as Senior General Counsel for the school's Student Government Association and was selected to be a member of the law school's trial advocacy team where he received several national awards.

Keven began his legal career at a civil litigation firm advocating for clients in personal injury and personal injury protection lawsuits. At Morgan & Morgan, Keven continues to fight for injured victims. He is proficient in recovering settlements against insurance companies seeking to deny, delay or reduce legitimate claims for unpaid benefits to those suffering losses. He has successfully litigated and tried cases in civil and criminal proceedings obtaining favorable verdicts for his clients. He is a member of the State Bar of Florida and is admitted to practice in the United States Middle and Southern Districts of Florida.

When he is not fighting for injured victims, he enjoys traveling with his beautiful wife and serving as superhero to his sons.
