Angela Agostino's legal journey is a testament to her dedication and expertise in advocating for her clients' rights. Her career commenced as an Assistant Public Defender in Fort Myers, where she passionately defended the accused and gained invaluable courtroom experience. Transitioning to the realm of insurance defense, Ms. Agostino joined a statewide firm, where she handled a wide array of cases, including auto and premises liability matters. Her exceptional skills and commitment to excellence propelled her to become a shareholder of the firm within four years, a testament to her legal acumen and leadership abilities.

During her tenure as an insurance defense lawyer, Ms. Agostino tried numerous cases to verdict, establishing herself as a formidable trial attorney in the community. Her ability to navigate complex legal issues and secure favorable outcomes for her clients further solidified her reputation. Drawing from her extensive trial experience and in-depth knowledge of insurance companies, Ms. Agostino brings a unique perspective to her practice at Morgan & Morgan, where she specializes in car accidents & auto injury. Her comprehensive understanding of insurance defense strategies allows her to effectively represent her clients' interests, ensuring they receive the compensation they deserve. Based in Fort Myers, Florida, Ms. Agostino continues to uphold her commitment to providing diligent and zealous representation, making a meaningful difference in the lives of those she represents.
