EDUCATION

Washington and Jefferson College

The University of Pittsburgh, School of Law

Jordan Bush is a veteran personal injury attorney with experience on both sides of the "v", having worked at both plaintiff and defense firms in the Pittsburgh area, including one of the largest plaintiff firms in the city. Immediately prior to joining Morgan and Morgan, Attorney Bush practiced at a regional defense firm where he gained invaluable knowledge from working for multiple insurance companies. However, Jordan has always favored helping those hurt in accidents rather than defending an insurance company's bottom line and is happy to use his direct knowledge of the insurance companies to advocate for his clients.

In addition to focusing his practice on personal injury cases, Attorney Bush has served as a panel speaker on client intake and investigations at continuing legal education seminars.

Jordan is a native of Western Pennsylvania having lived, studied, and worked in the area his whole life. He graduated Summa Cum Laude from Washington and Jefferson College and is a member Phi Beta Kappa. Following college, Jordan earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law.

Jordan resides in the South Hills of Pittsburgh. When he isn't practicing law he enjoys spending time with his wife and four children.
