EDUCATION

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY, 2017, J.D.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY, 2007,
B.A.

Ethan graduated with honors from Temple University and has been practicing for seven years. A large portion of his career was spent on the defense side, and because of this he has a wealth of knowledge and keen insight into how to advocate for his clients. He now focuses his practice on premises liability cases.

Starting out as a defense attorney, Ethan gained valuable experience representing clients in various complex cases. He even led the way in important jury trials, showing off his skills in the courtroom.

Ethan's caring nature led him to switch sides and work as a plaintiff's lawyer. He's passionate about helping people and works tirelessly to make sure his clients get the justice they deserve.

When he's not working, Ethan enjoys spending time with his wife and daughter. He also loves playing golf and giving back to his community through volunteer work in Philadelphia.

With his legal expertise, compassion, and commitment to service, Ethan continues to make a positive impact in Philadelphia, always upholding the highest standards of professionalism.
