EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts, Philosophy - University of Washington (Seattle)

Juris Doctor - The George Washington University Law School

Jeremy Kim was born in New Haven, Connecticut, and grew up in Seattle, Washington. He completed his bachelor's degree in philosophy at the University of Washington. Subsequently, he moved to Washington, D.C. to attend The George Washington University Law School.

From the outset of his legal career, Jeremy was drawn to litigation and trial advocacy. During his time at law school, he delved into various fields, including complex business litigation, civil rights violations, and employment disputes. His passion for personal injury law emerged while interning at a local firm in Virginia.

A notable accomplishment of Jeremy's is passing the Virginia state bar exam during his final semester of law school. Upon graduating, he passed a second bar exam and is now licensed to practice in both Virginia and New York.

Jeremy joined Morgan & Morgan as a case manager, pending his New York license, and is eager to continue serving the people of New York as an attorney.
