Julie W. Pittman is a North Alabama native who resides in Birmingham, Alabama. She graduated from the University of Alabama with dual bachelor's degrees in Journalism and English and received her Juris doctorate from the Alabama School of Law in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Julie began her career with a 7-year stint as senior staff counsel for the Alabama Supreme Court, then served as Operations Counsel for MedPartners, Inc. (now CVS-Caremark) before joining the commercial litigation practice group of a prominent Southeastern law firm. Julie's experiences in appellate work, corporate governance issues, and civil defense litigation ultimately inspired her to dedicate the second half of her career to complex litigation on behalf of plaintiffs. In her role with Morgan & Morgan, Julie specializes in large-scale e-discovery projects in support of the firm's mass-tort and class-action litigation.
