Nathan is a south Floridian, born and raised in West Palm Beach, FL. His passion for helping others sparked his interest in the law, which he demonstrates through his work as well as his devotion to his clients.

Nathan earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Legal Studies with a specialization in Litigation and Trial Advocacy from the University of Central Florida. He went on to receive his Juris Doctorate degree from Nova Southeastern University (NSU), with a certificate in Litigation. While earning his law degree, Nathan was published twice in The Florida Bar Public Interest Journal of the Florida Bar on issues related to the Affirmative Fair Housing Act and the unconstitutionality of holding juveniles to life without the possibility of parole.

Prior to joining the Morgan & Morgan family, Nathan's focus was in helping people who were injured due to the actions of others. He advocated for individuals exposed to dangerous life-threatening chemicals in a multi-district toxic tort lawsuit in federal courts across the southern United States.

He has been recognized as an exceptional civil trial attorney having been selected as a National Trial Lawyer's Top 40 under 40 Attorney in Florida. Additionally, Nathan was inducted into the Order of the Barristers, a prestigious national trial advocacy organization.

In his free time, Nathan is a law school mock trial coach for NSU. He is also an annual Disney World pass-holder and enjoys kayaking and taking trips with his family.
