EDUCATION

Miami University (Ohio)

Emory University School of Law

Matthew Grossman originates from Dallas, Texas, boasting a robust academic background that includes a Bachelor of Science Degree from Miami University (Ohio) and a law degree from Emory University School of Law in Atlanta, Georgia. During his tenure at law school, Mr. Grossman showcased exceptional advocacy skills as a member of the Mock Trial team, earning numerous best advocate distinctions that highlighted his legal prowess and dedication to the field. He currently serves as an adjunct professor for Emory Law School's Trial Techniques program, where he teaches third year law students how to succeed in the courtroom.

In his distinguished legal career, Mr. Grossman has specialized in motor vehicle and trucking injury cases, carving out a niche as a seasoned advocate for victims of such accidents. His relentless dedication and profound expertise have resulted in securing multi-million dollar verdicts and settlements for his clients, totaling tens of millions of dollars in recoveries for injured individuals. With licenses to practice law in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, Mr. Grossman continues to stand as a formidable force in the legal landscape, passionately representing those seeking justice in the aftermath of motor vehicle accidents and trucking-related injuries. Aside from where he is licensed to practice, Mr. Grossman is also frequently called to handle catastrophic cases throughout the United States and abroad, having litigated major bus, train and tractor-trailer crashes in Utah, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, and the Bahamas.
