Grayson Wallace is a medical malpractice and wrongful death attorney who grew up in Jacksonville, Florida. A "Double Gator," Mr. Wallace completed his undergraduate studies at the University of Florida, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science with honors and graduated with this four-year degree in just two years. He then distinguished himself by scoring in the top 1% in the country on the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), earning a full tuition scholarship to attend the University of Florida Levin College of Law.

During his time in law school, Mr. Wallace was an active member of the Trial Team, where he achieved one of the highest new member scores in his law school class and competed in statewide competitions. In addition to his academics and participation with the Trial Team, Mr. Wallace worked as a CLI at the State Attorney's Office for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, where he picked juries, tried cases to verdict, and received a "Book Award," which recognized him as the top performer in the program.

Mr. Wallace is admitted to practice law in both Florida and Georgia and is committed to bringing an individualized and compassionate approach to all of his clients and their complex cases.
