EDUCATION

Rutgers University - 2016

Seton Hall School of Law - 2019

Brendan Ruckert is an experienced attorney who transitioned from the defense side to the plaintiff's personal injury. Brendan is a graduate of Rutgers University with a bachelor's degree in political science. He then graduated from Seton Hall School of Law.

Following graduation from law school, Brendan clerked in the New Jersey Superior Court, Ocean County Vicinage, and gained critical insight into the workings of our court system. Brendan spent several years defending medical malpractice claims before joining Morgan & Morgan. Brendan's experience on the defense side allows him perspective into how the other side operates and affords him valuable insight to best advocate for clients.
