George Mason Antonin Scalia Law School 2021 to 2024

Ryan Dagley is an associate attorney at Morgan & Morgan's Fort Myers office, focusing on personal injury and car accident cases. A lifelong competitor, Ryan's drive for success began on the soccer field. He was a U.S. Soccer Olympic Development Program member, representing Virginia at the state level and competing at Region I Camp. In college, he continued his athletic career as a collegiate men's soccer player and was a 2017 NCAA Tournament participant.

Ryan earned his undergraduate degree from the University of the District of Columbia, where he balanced academics and athletics with discipline and determination. His passion for advocacy led him to pursue his Juris Doctor at George Mason University's Antonin Scalia Law School, graduating in 2024. During law school, he developed strong legal research, writing, and advocacy skills, preparing him to fight for the rights of injured clients.

Now at Morgan & Morgan, Ryan brings the same competitive spirit and dedication to his legal practice as he did to the soccer field. He is committed to helping clients navigate the complexities of personal injury claims and securing the compensation they deserve. His drive, resilience, and client-focused approach make him a strong advocate for those facing challenging times.
