EDUCATION

Indiana University - 2010

University of Illinois Chicago School of Law - 2015

Zachary Baker is a dedicated personal injury attorney at Morgan & Morgan. He represents clients who have been harmed in various accidents, including motor vehicle collisions, slip-and-falls, and workplace injuries. He earned his Bachelor's Degree from Indiana University before pursuing his legal education at the University of Illinois Chicago School of Law, where he earned his Juris Doctor. After graduating, Zach focused his practice on personal injury law, trying numerous cases and securing favorable verdicts for his clients.

Before joining Morgan & Morgan, Zach gained invaluable experience representing insurance companies on the defense side. This role gave him an insider's perspective on how defense strategies are formed and how to counteract them effectively. Now, as a plaintiff's attorney, Zach leverages this knowledge to maximize settlements and trial verdicts for his clients, ensuring they receive the compensation they deserve.

Known for his tenacity, professionalism, and client-focused approach, Zach is committed to providing each client with exceptional legal representation. Whether negotiating a settlement or advocating in the courtroom, he works tirelessly to secure the best outcomes for those wrongfully injured. When not practicing law, Zach enjoys spending time with his wife and children, attending concerts, and traveling.
