Eric D. Hansen is an experienced Minnesota attorney with a number of varying and nuanced practice areas. He has operated his own solo practice as well as worked at small suburban boutique firms and large diversified downtown law firms. Eric focuses on class actions, mass torts, and shared legal services at Morgan & Morgan.

He also worked in Northern Minnesota at a nonprofit that provided civil legal services to a diverse population of low-income and indigent clients. In 2021 and 2022, Eric taught at Mitchell Hamline School of Law as an adjunct professor. Eric is a 2014 William Mitchell College of Law graduate. He graduated cum laude from the University of Minnesota with honors as a McGuire Scholar, where he majored in political science. Eric lives in Saint Paul with his wife, Elisabeth, and their daughters, Ada and Matilda. He enjoys playing music, motorcycles, and disc golf.
