Mitchell Stoltz is a dedicated personal injury attorney at Morgan & Morgan's Louisville, KY, office, where he focuses on representing clients in motor vehicle accident and premises liability cases. Born and raised in Louisville, Kentucky, Mitchell pursued his passion for problem-solving by earning a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering with a minor in Mathematics from the University of Louisville J.B. Speed School of Engineering. His strong analytical background led him to further his education at the University of Louisville Brandeis School of Law.

During law school, Mitchell began his legal career as a clerk at Morgan & Morgan, gaining valuable hands-on experience in personal injury law. His time as a clerk reinforced his passion for advocating for those who have been injured due to negligence. Upon earning his law degree, he officially joined the firm as an attorney, bringing his dedication and problem-solving skills to every case he handles.

Now a committed advocate for his clients, Mitchell tirelessly ensures they receive the justice and compensation they deserve. His deep roots in Louisville and strong work ethic make him a trusted ally for those navigating the legal system.
