Peter Rosa is a passionate personal injury attorney at Morgan & Morgan's Jersey City office. He focuses on helping individuals who have been injured due to others' negligence. Originally from Pennsylvania, Peter earned his undergraduate degree from Johnson & Wales University in May 2013 before attending Widener University Delaware Law School, where he received his Juris Doctor in May 2016. From early on, Peter knew he wanted to use his legal career to make a meaningful difference in people's lives.

After law school, Peter began advocating for injury victims across New Jersey, building a reputation for his compassionate client care and determined legal representation. His commitment to justice and community involvement extends beyond the courtroom. In recognition of his efforts, he was named the Chair of the Monmouth Bar Association Young Lawyers Committee, where he helps support and mentor new attorneys in Monmouth County. In addition, Peter plays an active role in the Monmouth Legal Aid Society, offering support and guidance to individuals needing legal assistance.

Peter is a proud member of the Monmouth Bar Association, Middlesex County Bar Association, New Jersey State Bar Association, and the New Jersey Association for Justice. His dedication to his clients and the legal community is at the heart of his practice. Whether he's negotiating a settlement or preparing a case for trial, Peter brings energy, integrity, and a client-first mindset to every matter he handles. Outside of the courtroom, Peter enjoys spending time with his wife Victoria and his daughter.
