EDUCATION

Indiana University (Undergrad)

Temple Law School (Law School)

Matthew Segal is a committed personal injury attorney at Morgan & Morgan's Philadelphia office, where he focuses his practice on premises liability, slip and fall, and other injury-related cases. Originally from South Jersey, Matthew attended Indiana University for his undergraduate studies, where he developed a strong foundation in critical thinking and a passion for advocacy that would guide his career path.

He went on to earn his Juris Doctor from Temple University's Beasley School of Law, further refining his legal knowledge and advocacy skills in the heart of Philadelphia. Since entering the legal profession, Matthew has dedicated himself to representing individuals who have been injured due to the negligence of others. His approach is strategic, compassionate, and always centered around securing the best outcomes for his clients.

Now practicing at Morgan & Morgan, Matthew brings both experience and empathy to every case he handles. He understands how overwhelming a personal injury claim can be and takes pride in guiding clients through the process with care and confidence. Whether it's a slip and fall or a complex premises liability issue, Matthew is committed to standing up for those who need a strong advocate on their side.
