EDUCATION

Rollins College. B.S. 1993

Cecil C. Humprey's School of Law - University of Memphis 1998

Milette Webber has dedicated her career to litigating against some of the nation's most powerful companies while representing people who've suffered from catastrophic injuries caused by defective products.

After graduating from law school, Milette spent her formative years defending automotive manufacturers. Realizing that her true passion was elsewhere, she chose to make a change and represent clients in catastrophic injury and product liability cases. Her previous experience has helped provide her with valuable insight while successfully prosecuting numerous product liability cases throughout the United States.
