Temple University School of Law, LL.M. in Trial Advocacy

Keith Bauerle is an experienced trial lawyer in our Philadelphia office, focusing on representing injured victims. Before joining Morgan & Morgan, Keith spent the last twenty four years defending personal injury cases for large corporations and insurance companies. He has tried numerous cases in the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Courts, and has gained a vast knowledge of personal injury litigation. Now, he wields that knowledge in his mission to help injured victims. Here at Morgan & Morgan, he is committed to fighting for the rights of individuals who have been injured in an accident.

Keith graduated from Temple University School of Law in Philadelphia with a Juris Doctor degree. He then went on to obtain a Master's Degree in Trial Advocacy, also from Temple University School of Law, a program that has been consistently recognized by U.S. News & World Report as one of the top three trial advocacy programs in the nation for over 20 years.

Outside the firm, Keith spends time with his daughter, and training for and competing in multisport Triathlons in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.
