Erin Bock was born and raised in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and has built a career rooted in both advocacy and creativity. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Broadcast Journalism from Syracuse University in 2007, where she developed strong communication skills that would later serve her well in the courtroom. After several years of professional growth, Erin decided to pursue a legal career and earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law in 2012.

Following law school, Erin began her career representing injured individuals, helping them navigate the legal system and secure fair outcomes. She later gained extensive experience defending hospitals, doctors, and other medical professionals in medical malpractice cases, broadening her understanding of complex litigation from multiple perspectives. Erin completed a Master of Fine Arts in Musical Theater at the Boston Conservatory at Berklee College of Music in 2019, blending her passion for performance with her dedication to storytelling and advocacy. She also spent time working in-house at a legal services start-up, further expanding her knowledge of the business and operational side of law.

With over 13 years of experience, Erin has handled a wide range of cases, including premises liability, liquor liability, auto accidents, employment, municipal, asbestos, and professional liability matters. Her diverse background allows her to approach each case with balance, empathy, and strategic insight. Outside the office, Erin is deeply involved in Pittsburgh's arts community, volunteering with local theatrical organizations and serving as a Director on the Board of the Greater Pittsburgh Arts Council. Her dual passions for law and the arts reflect her belief in advocacy, creativity, and community engagement as driving forces in both her personal and professional life.

IN THEIR WORDS

"I enjoy helping people. I've always had an affinity for storytelling, so my journey to the law led me through theater and journalism. It's that background that further fueled my desire to empower people and give them a voice. I use my skillset to help amplify people's stories on a different stage."
