Rocco Motto is a dedicated workers' compensation attorney representing injured workers throughout Illinois and Iowa. Rocco is committed to protecting the rights of employees hurt on the job and ensuring they receive the full benefits and compensation they are entitled to under the law.

Rocco's practice focuses exclusively on workers' compensation matters, including workplace injuries, repetitive trauma claims, and cases involving disputed or denied benefits. He routinely appears before the Illinois Workers' Compensation Commission and aggressively challenges insurance companies that attempt to delay, deny, or minimize claims.

With a strong client-centered approach, Rocco explains the workers' compensation process in clear, practical terms so clients feel informed and supported throughout their case. With more than a decade of experience, he understands the physical, financial and emotional challenges of workplace injuries and works tirelessly to secure the best possible outcomes.

Rocco earned his Juris Doctor from Washington University in St. Louis and is licensed to practice law in both Illinois and Iowa. He is a member of the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association and the Workers' Compensation Lawyers Association, staying current on developments in workers' compensation law.

Above all, Rocco is driven by the belief that injured workers deserve respect, compassion, and strong legal representation during one of the most difficult times in their lives.
