EDUCATION

Middle Tennessee State University, 2017

Cumberland School of Law at Samford University, 2021

Anna Tullar's journey into the legal profession began in Western Kentucky, where she was born and raised. Growing up with a strong sense of community, she eventually moved to Tennessee to pursue her undergraduate education at Middle Tennessee State University. She graduated in 2017 with a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice, which provided her with a solid foundation in the principles of law and the justice system. Her time in Tennessee solidified her desire to advocate for others, setting the stage for her move further south to attend law school.

Upon moving to Alabama, Anna enrolled at the Cumberland School of Law at Samford University. She dedicated herself to her legal studies and successfully earned her Juris Doctor in 2021. After passing the bar, she spent approximately four years refining her skills as a litigator. During this period, she gained extensive experience handling complex matters involving personal injury, premises liability, and medical malpractice. Her work took her across state lines as she actively practiced and litigated cases for clients in Alabama, Tennessee, and North Carolina, building a reputation for thoroughness and professional excellence.

In 2026, Anna brought her significant litigation experience to Morgan & Morgan's Birmingham office. Now focusing her practice on personal injury, she is passionate about using her deep understanding of the legal landscape to support and represent her neighbors in Alabama. Anna is thrilled to be part of a team dedicated to fighting for the people, and she remains committed to providing compassionate and effective legal counsel to those who have been injured.
