M.S., Civil Engineering, Vanderbilt University (2005)

J.D., Law, University of Maryland School of Law (2010)

Sabrina joins Morgan & Morgan as a Trial Attorney in the Baltimore office, bringing a powerful and rare perspective to plaintiff's personal injury work: she spent over a decade on the other side of the courtroom. After more than 15 years working as Staff Counsel for insurance companies and municipalities, Sabrina knows exactly how insurers think, how they build their defenses, and how to beat them. That insider knowledge is now fully in your corner.

A proud Baltimore native — born, raised, and educated in the city she loves — Sabrina holds a B.S. in Mathematics from the University of Maryland Baltimore County, an M.S. in Civil Engineering from Vanderbilt University, and a J.D. from the University of Maryland School of Law. Her rare combination of technical and legal training gives her a sharp analytical edge in complex injury cases.

After law school, Sabrina clerked in the Circuit Court for Baltimore City before launching her litigation career. She later served as Chief Solicitor in the Litigation Department of the Baltimore City Law Department. She has also served on the Baltimore Ethics Board, the Zoning Board (BMZA), and currently sits as one of five Judges on the Maryland Tax Court.

At Morgan & Morgan, Sabrina is committed to fighting For the People — advocating fiercely for injured clients and ensuring they receive the full compensation they deserve.

When Sabrina isn't in the courtroom, she's been a group fitness instructor since 2003, teaching Spin, Zumba, and Boot Camp classes around Baltimore. She's also a licensed wedding officiant since 2013, having married couples around the world. Her other passions (in no particular order) include her two children and partner (her "boys"); the Baltimore Ravens; cooking; traveling; Book Club; Fantasy Football; long afternoons with great food and good people; telling jokes at parties; helping curly hair thrive; floral print clothing; salsa music; making new friends; the color blue; and cheeseburgers.
