EDUCATION

Stetson University College of Law (Graduated: Dec. 2020)

Florida State University (Graduated: May 2018)

Sarah Feller began her academic journey at Florida State University, where she completed her undergraduate studies and graduated in May 2018. Driven by a commitment to advocacy and the legal profession, she then attended Stetson University College of Law. During her time in law school, she focused on developing a strong foundation in litigation and legal analysis, ultimately earning her Juris Doctor in December 2020. These formative years in Florida's legal academic community prepared her to step into the professional world with a passion for helping others navigate the complexities of the law.

Today, Sarah is a dedicated pre-suit attorney at the Morgan & Morgan office in West Palm Beach, where she focuses her practice on personal injury and car accident cases. She is deeply involved in the local legal community, serving as the Young Lawyers Board Chair and maintaining an active membership in the Palm Beach County Justice Association. In her current role, Sarah works tirelessly to support her clients in the early stages of their legal journey, ensuring they receive the guidance and advocacy necessary to achieve a favorable resolution. Her leadership and commitment to justice make her a trusted advocate for individuals seeking recovery after an accident.
