EDUCATION

IU McKinney School of Law - 2021

Marquette University - 2012

Patrick O'Brien is originally from Peoria, Illinois, and spent his early college years studying at Marquette University, where he earned his undergraduate degree. Driven by a desire to pursue a career in law, he moved to Indiana to attend the Robert H. McKinney School of Law at Indiana University. During his time in law school, Patrick focused his legal studies on Health Law, developing a deep understanding of complex regulatory systems and patient advocacy before earning his Juris Doctor.

Following law school, Patrick chose to make Indianapolis his permanent home, where he has now lived for ten years. Over the course of his legal career, he has used his specialized education to help individuals navigate intricate legal challenges with clarity and confidence. Known for his warm, approachable style, Patrick is dedicated to building strong relationships with his clients and providing compassionate, personalized representation at every step.

Outside his legal practice, Patrick is a devoted family man who lives in Indianapolis with his wife and their two young children, ages 4 and 10 months. He loves spending his free time outdoors and introducing his kids to new places and adventures around the community. When he is taking a break from family outings and legal work, Patrick is an avid sports fan who loves sitting back to watch a good basketball game.
