EDUCATION

University of California, Berkeley, B.A., 2020

University of California, Berkeley, School of Law, J.D., 2023

Tatiana Fominyam began her academic journey at the University of California, Berkeley, where she earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science with a minor in African American Studies in 2020. While at Berkeley, she noticed a lack of resources for future Black legal professionals, so she co-founded the Black Pre-Law Association. Tatiana had dreamed of going to law school and becoming an attorney since she was a young girl. She comes from a family full of immigrants and wants to serve as a resource for underrepresented communities. She achieved that dream when she attended the University of California, Berkeley, School of Law and received her J.D. in 2023. While at Berkeley Law, she was the managing director of the Berkeley Journal of Black Law and Policy and a research assistant for her constitutional law professor.

Now, Tatiana is a personal injury pre-suit attorney at Morgan and Morgan, focusing on car accident cases. Noted for her tenacity and clear communication, she is excited to serve as an advocate and supporter for her clients. In her free time, Tatiana enjoys going to the movies, watching and attending basketball games, hiking, and traveling. She also loves to spend time with her friends and family.
