Nathaniel Clark laid the groundwork for his legal career in Southern California, earning his undergraduate degree from the University of California, San Diego in 2007. Driven by a deep commitment to courtroom advocacy and standing up for others, he pursued his legal studies at the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law, where he earned his Juris Doctor in 2010. Following graduation, Nathaniel earned admission to the California State Bar as well as all Federal District Courts across California, embarking on what has become an extensive career dedicated to high stakes trial litigation.

Today, Nathaniel brings that courtroom experience and client centered focus to the Morgan & Morgan office in Los Angeles. As a trial attorney, he represents individuals and families navigating life changing personal injury claims, focusing his practice on traumatic brain and spinal cord injuries, wrongful death, premises liability, slip and fall incidents, and dog bite matters. Nathaniel takes genuine pride in guiding everyday people through the civil justice system, working tirelessly to hold negligent parties accountable and secure the meaningful compensation his clients need to rebuild their lives.
