EDUCATION

College of the Atlantic B.A.

Vermont Law School J.D.

I work to get injured workers the benefits they deserve. I represent people throughout the Commonwealth in court and at the Department of Industrial Accidents—conducting conciliations, conferences, hearings, and trials. I make principled decisions grounded in the law and guided by fairness to my clients.

My work is driven by a commitment to integrity, accountability, and service. Whether preparing a complex case for trial or working with insurance companies to get the best outcome for my client, I bring focus, tenacity, and compassion to every step of the process. I take pride in standing up in court on behalf of those who need a voice and helping ensure that their rights are not just pursued—but achieved.

It's a David versus Goliath fight where the stakes may determine whether my client can put food on the table for their families, pay their mortgages or rent, and access the healthcare that they need. I am proud and determined to help the people in need and indeed serve justice to some of the people that need it most
