EDUCATION

Terry College of Business at the University of Georgia; 2018

Georgia State University College of Law; 2021

Alex Essex spent his high school years in Richmond, Virginia, before heading south to attend the University of Georgia, where he excelled both on the field and in the classroom. As a four-year letterman and defensive tackle for the Georgia Bulldogs football team, Alex brought grit and discipline to every practice and game, earning prestigious Academic All-American honors while completing degrees in real estate and finance from the Terry College of Business. Following his collegiate athletic career, he brought that same competitive drive and strong work ethic to Georgia State University College of Law, where he earned the 2020 Attorney's Guaranty Scholarship and actively contributed to the Sports Law Society and the Oglethorpe Society.

Upon admission to the Georgia Bar, Alex stepped directly into the courtroom as a civil litigator, quickly building a reputation for obtaining outstanding results and verdicts for injured clients across the state. He channeled the tenacity and focus developed on the gridiron into his legal practice, standing up for individuals and families facing life-altering disruptions. Over years of focused practice, he sharpened his courtroom instincts and mastered the intricate regulatory and mechanical evidence essential to holding commercial transport companies accountable.

Today, Alex brings that relentless drive and heartfelt commitment to the Morgan & Morgan team, focusing his practice on catastrophic commercial trucking litigation. Warm, approachable, and deeply attentive, Alex treats his clients like family, ensuring they have a formidable, compassionate advocate in their corner every step of the way. When he steps away from the legal arena, Alex makes his home in the Atlanta area and enjoys spending quality time with family and friends at the lake, playing a round of golf, and cheering passionately for his beloved Georgia Dawgs.
