EDUCATION

University of Minnesota Law School, 2017

Bridgewater State University, summa cum laude, 2014

Attorney Basra developed a passion for law from a young age when she observed her father defend individuals who were wrongfully accused. This early exposure instilled in her a desire to advocate for those caught in unequal battles. With local roots and a strong commitment to the people of Massachusetts, she is passionate about assisting those who have been wrongfully injured due to someone else's negligence. Her goal is to fight for what is rightfully yours and ensure that insurance companies are held fully accountable for your losses.

A graduate of both Bridgewater State University and University of Minnesota Law School, she has 8 years of experience working at a prominent Massachusetts Personal Injury law firm and looks forward to building on that experience to help her clients at Morgan & Morgan! She specializes in motor vehicle collision cases.

Outside of work you can find her out in nature kayaking, hiking, and camping. Her goal is to one day summit all 48 of New Hampshire's 4,000 foot peaks. She is an avid reader with a yearly list of at least 100 books read.
