EDUCATION

Johnson & Wales University (2018) B.S.

Seattle University School of Law (2024) J.D.

Originally from New York, Stefani Gorman gained an expansive worldview early on, living across Rhode Island, Washington, Minnesota, and the United Kingdom. Before pursuing a legal education, she built a successful professional background within the competitive equestrian show jumping industry. Navigating the demands of elite equestrian sports instilled in her a profound sense of discipline, quick decision making under pressure, and meticulous preparation, strengths that seamlessly translated into her legal career. She completed her undergraduate studies at Johnson & Wales University, earning her Bachelor of Science in 2018.

Driven to channel her focus toward public service, Stefani earned her Juris Doctor from Seattle University School of Law. During law school, she actively engaged in campus leadership, serving as President of the International Law Society, an experience that sparked her passion for public advocacy and client focused representation. Following graduation, Stefani stepped directly into high volume Social Security Disability practice. In this fast-paced environment, she guided individuals through complex administrative procedures, mastering intricate medical evidence and fighting to ensure clients received the vital benefits they needed.

Today, Stefani brings that energetic advocacy and empathetic perspective to the Morgan & Morgan team, where she concentrates on making a meaningful difference in the everyday lives of the people she represents. Genuinely invested in her clients, she takes the time to listen closely to their stories and navigate the legal process alongside them with care and clarity. Outside the office, Stefani stays true to her roots by enjoying horseback riding, relaxing with a good book, and traveling to explore new places.
