EDUCATION

Kansas State University BA

Brooklyn Law School JD

Born and raised in Kansas, Hannah Bretz grew up with a heartfelt commitment to helping others and standing up for people who need a voice. Guided by that purpose, she moved to New York City to pursue her dream of entering the legal profession. She went on to attend Brooklyn Law School, dedicating her studies to trial advocacy and courtroom practice before graduating cum laude with her Juris Doctor.

Following graduation, Hannah channeled her passion for community advocacy directly into public defense work in the Bronx. Stepping into the courtroom from day one, she served as the primary attorney from intake through disposition in more than 350 criminal cases. Handling high volume dockets and complex hearings sharpened her instincts as a fearless litigator who thrives under pressure, never backs down from taking a case to trial, and always puts the needs of her clients first.

Today, Hannah brings that extensive courtroom experience, composure, and tenacious advocacy to the Morgan & Morgan team at the New York office, focusing her practice on premises liability litigation. Warm, approachable, and deeply attentive, Hannah takes the time to truly listen to the people she represents, ensuring they feel supported and empowered at every stage of their case. She takes immense pride in championing injured individuals and their families, working tirelessly to hold negligent property owners accountable and secure the meaningful justice her clients deserve.
